MAYOR BURD REVIEWS 2008, LOOKS TO 2009

In looking ahead to 2009, one of our top priorities for the United City of Yorkville has to be fiscal conservatism. Using the taxpayers' money wisely, of course, has always got to be a priority for elected officials and the city staff, but in this time of such a major downturn in the national economy, we have to be especially careful in planning for the future. We won't be able to use the last few years' revenue histories as a mile post for planning for the next year, as is the usual practice when creating our budgets, because those revenues may fall dramatically.

So far, with all the new commercial development we've attracted to the City, we've been holding fairly steady, and I am hearing that many of our new big box stores did well this Christmas season, but we have been cutting our spending drastically, and we have to continue to do so, in order to be prepared for whatever possible downturns the new year might bring.

That being said, we at the same time want to be in a good position to take advantage of any financial help the federal or state government may come forward with during the next year for major infrastructure projects. With all the growth we have experienced in the past five years, we have many road widening, resurfacing, and water projects ready to go.

In addition, we will continue to work on preparing the plans for transportation improvements that could be eligible for funding. Getting a Park and Ride for Yorkville and working to extend Metra service through Kendall County will be another top priority. Since we currently have no public transportation, this hurts all members of our community, from our younger residents to our seniors who could use public transportation to shop or visit doctors or friends.

We have a great need as a City for another large regional park with lighted baseball fields, and this is another top priority. In addition, in 2009 I want to continue looking for ways to add to our open park land along the Fox River. This past year we purchased 4.5 acres of wooded land on the Fox River for a future park. This is a new direction for our Park and Recreation Department, because this will be a passive recreational area.

In 2009 we also will continue to work on adding to our trail system. Thanks to a $100,000 grant we received from the state, we have begun the process of planning for a regional trail system throughout Yorkville, one that would hook onto trails in adjoining communities.

In 2008, working with Oswego Village President Brian LeClerc, who shares this vision, we were able to connect Oswego and Yorkville trails on Mill Street on our city's northeast boundary. My goal is that in the near future Yorkville residents can have access from Yorkville to a trail system that reaches north to Elgin.

And finally, I want to continue working on making Yorkville a leader in environmental responsibility. We recently passed a resolution that mandates that all future public buildings be LEED certified at the silver level – something that will require a commitment to energy efficiency, water conservation, and careful selection of building materials. By being a good example, we can encourage developers and local builders to follow these policies for the betterment of us all.

I wish you all a Happy 2009!

-Mayor Valerie Burd

It's All About Community!

The Riemenschneider family (above) and Yorkville's Parks and Recreation mascot Parker (right) attended the Playful Cities Celebration and park dedication on Oct. 13. The firefighter theme park honors four generations of the Riemenschneider Family who have been committed to serving the Yorkville Community by volunteering for the Bristol-Kendall Fire Protection District for over 60 years.

Yorkville's Playful City celebration a huge Success!

YORKVILLE'S FUTURE POLITICIANS VISIT CITY HALL

Hands went up quickly during the question and answer session.

Approximately 75 third graders from Yorkville Grade School visited City Hall to learn about local government. Above, Mayor Valerie Burd answers questions and explains her responsibilities as Yorkville's mayor. How laws were made was the most frequently asked question, followed by what does she do when she isn't working as Yorkville's number one politician and what it is like being mayor.

Burd's response, "I'm always busy, there's always someone to meet with or somewhere to go."

LETTERS...

From our smaller constituents

Dear Mayor Burd,

Thank you for spending time with us. You were really nice to us. I want to thank you for letting us meet you. I had fun asking the questions. Thank you for the treats and the bags. I like the bags and the other stuff. I want to ask you one question, do you like Halloween? Happy Halloween!

-Your friend, Jaden

Dear Mayor Burd,

Thank you for the goodie bag and cupcakes and letting us come. And the cupcakes were delicious.

-George

Dear Mayor Burd,

Thank you so much for letting us come to meet you. You are very nice for coming in. I hope you can be Mayor for as long as possible. Happy Halloween!

-Your friend, Anna Doty

Community Spirit Soars at Holiday Under the Stars

The cold frigid night didn't dampen the holiday spirit of Yorkville residents who attended the Second Annual Holiday Under the Stars

The United City of Yorkville's second annual Holiday Under the Stars festival on Friday, Dec. 5 brought the community together in great numbers to warm up for the winter season. The free event packed Town Square Park full of holiday favorites, old and new.

Families enjoyed cozy horse and carriage rides around the park, watched an ice carver transform a block of ice into a sparkling masterpiece, played brand new ice toss and ice tic-tac toe games with friends, and more! All night long, kids lined up with their parents to take a seat on Santa's lap and let him know how good they've been this year.

Local groups and community organizations turned out to sell hot cocoa, popcorn, chili, fresh roasted nuts and more, keeping everyone toasty and full! Groups selling food and drinks included St. Patrick's Women's Club, Mothers of Preschoolers (MOPS), Parkview Christian Academy, and more!

Santa's helpers brought Ruby the reindeer for petting, the all-weather ice rink was open all evening long for free skating, and Mayor Valerie Burd – with a little help from Santa and the Plano Lamplight Singers, bringing cheer with their traditional caroling – lit the Christmas tree in the park. Everyone warmed up with toasty drinks and food from local community vendors in the main tent. Kids enjoyed making a free ornament with Jacob's Well and decorated a free cookie courtesy of Old Second Bank of Yorkville in the main tent, all evening long.

Musical entertainment included the widely popular Yorkville Big Band playing festive favorites and more, and Gold Star Academy of Dance added a brand new 30-minute holiday performance at Parkview Christian Academy.

This year's new Holiday Lighting Tour Trolleys were a huge hit, taking festival-goers on a magical ride through beautifully lighted homes in Heartland subdivision. Riders also heard stories read by Yorkville Public Library staff as they stared in awe at the many decorated homes during the 20-minute tour.

Brand new this year, storyteller Lynne Clayton warmed hearts with family-friendly stories and songs at the historical Chapel on the Green, adjacent to Town Square Park.

And a special thank you to everyone who generously donated winter clothing items to the Human Resources Commission's collection for the Kendall County Food Pantry.

The second annual United City of Yorkville holiday event sparked Yorkville's spirits this season. Mayor Valerie Burd thanked the many sponsors and community groups and at the end of the evening a great time was had by all!

TOP: The Plano Lamplight singers wow the crowd with the familiar classic O' Christmas Tree, and stroll through the park in traditional holiday clothing.

CENTER: Old St. Nick works his magic in the Santa tent. Over 400 children whispered their wish lists in Santa's ear.

BOTTOM: Children enjoyed face painting in the Santa tent along with treats to take home.

BRIEF REMINDERS...

•Snow Removal Guidelines

Parking on City streets is prohibited after a snowfall accumulation of two inches or more and 24 hours after a snowfall has ended except for emergency vehicles.

Also... When shoveling snow, please remember that it is unlawful to deposit snow onto City streets when removing snow from driveways and sidewalks. Violations of this ordinance may result in a $50 fine.

•Mailbox Replacement Policy

Only mailboxes that are struck directly by a city vehicle or piece of equipment will be eligible for replacement. Damage caused by snow will not be eligible for replacement.

Below are a list of procedures to follow if your mailbox is damaged by a City vehicle.

- You must notify the Public Works Department within three days of the occurrence. A temporary mailbox will be installed until a determination can be made as to whether the City is responsible.
- A Public Works representative will inspect your mailbox and determine if it was properly installed, the material was in good condition, and if it was struck by a City vehicle.
- If determined that the City was responsible, the homeowner is eligible for reimbursement of up to $75 to replace the mailbox.
- Reimbursement may be submitted to the City after the homeowner installs a new mailbox and it is inspected by a Public Works representative.
- The homeowner is responsible for the replacement of the mailbox in all instances when the City was not at fault. To report an incident call Public Works at 630.553.4370.

A free informational seminar... The United City of Yorkville will be hosting a free informational seminar on the EMERALD ASH BORER in the Yorkville Public Library Conference room, 902 Game Farm Road. Representatives from the University of Illinois Extension Office and the Illinois Department of Agriculture will present information about the Emerald Ash Borer. Learn how to identify an Ash tree, how to identify the insect, City procedures and ordinances for infected trees, what you can do to help your trees, and the types of trees you can plant in the future. Brochures and informational materials will be available for residents to take home. For more information call 630.553.8574.

EMERALD ASH BORER FOUND IN YORKVILLE

The Emerald Ash Borer (EAB), a small, metallic green, non-native invasive pest was detected in the United City of Yorkville in late November. Also known in the scientific world as Agrilus Planipennis Fairmaire, the Emerald Ash Borer is an exotic beetle that was discovered in southeastern Michigan near Detroit in the summer of 2002. The adult beetles nibble on ash foliage but cause little damage. The larvae (infant stage) feed on the inner bark of ash trees, disrupting the tree's ability to transport water and nutrients. Ash trees can be infested with EAB for a few years before the tree begins to demonstrate any signs of EAB infestation. Symptoms of EAB include canopy dieback, D-shaped exit holes, shoots sprouting from the tree trunks and S-shaped larval gallerie underneath the bark.

Adult EAB leave a D-shaped exit hole in the bark when they emerge in spring.

Metallic green, the Emerald Ash Borer was found within the City's limits in November

Heavy woodpecker damage on Ash trees (above) may be a sign of infestation.

Controlling the Emerald Ash Borer

The best method to control the spread of the Emerald Ash Borer according to the Illinois Department of Agriculture (IDA) is to remove the host tree(s). The IDA advises homeowners that when considering usage of insecticidal control, they need to weigh the value of the tree against the cost of treatment. The IDA supports a tree owner's right to determine whether a pesticide treatment is appropriate in their specific circumstances. Under the provisions of the State of Illinois' Insect Pest and Plant Disease Act, as well as the Nuisance Declaration issued in July 2006, the state has the authority to order the removal of any tree infested with the Emerald Ash Borer, regardless of whether or not it has been previously treated with pesticide.

Yorkville staff members will respond immediately to any sighting of the Emerald Ash Borer. Yorkville residents who suspect or find an adult or larval form of the Emerald Ash Borer should contact the city's Public Works Director Eric Dhuse at 630.553.4370 or e-mail photos to the Illinois Department of Agriculture at agr.eab@illinois.gov. You can also contact the Kendall County Extension office at 630.553.5823 if you suspect or sight an Emerald Ash Borer within Yorkville's City limits.

UPDATES FROM OUR DEPARTMENTS

Community Development

CITY UPDATES COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

An update to the City's Comprehensive Plan and the Parks and Recreation Master Plan was approved by Yorkville's City Council in October of 2008. This approval marked a yearlong planning and public input process. Both plans are available for viewing on the City's Web site at www.yorkville.il.us/depts/parks/fac.cfm. Look for more to come as the City works to implement the goals of the plan in 2009 and beyond!

INTEGRATED TRANSPORTATION PLAN WORK CONTINUES

The City's Integrated Transportation Plan will enhance both the bicycle and pedestrian environment throughout Yorkville in addition to the City's downtown area. Are there missing links of the trail network in your neighborhood? Tell us your thoughts at the next ITP meeting. All meetings are listed on the City Web site at www.yorkville.il.us. Call 630.553.8549 for more information.

NEW SECURITY BOX PROGRAM AIDS IN KEEPING SENIORS SAFE

The Kendall County Triad is excited to announce a new program to assist seniors with obtaining a security box for their residence.

A Knox-Box is a security box that holds keys to the residence, which fire personnel can access in an emergency. Each fire department in Kendall County is registered with the Knox-Box Corporation, with access to their own security key. A business or resident can purchase a Knox-Box, which would be registered to their own fire protection district for emergency entry.

The program is made possible by Key Strokes Transcription Service in Yorkville, who generously donated $15,000 to supply Kendall County seniors with 100 Knox-Boxes. Those in the program only need to supply a key to their front door, which will be placed into the Knox-Box and then permanently mounted to the residence.

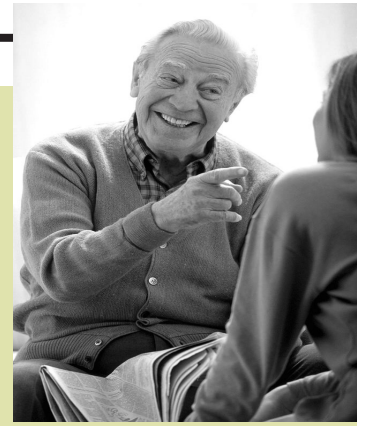

Local fire departments have agreed to install Knox-Boxes for any senior residence within their respective jurisdiction in Kendall County.

Applicants must own their own home and be 65 years of age or older.

Because this is a new program, expect 6-8 weeks before the installation may be completed.

Pick up an application packet at Senior Services at the Beecher Community Building, 908 Game Farm Rd., the Yorkville Police Department, 804 Game Farm Rd., or the Oswego Police Department, 3525 Rt. 34.

Call the Yorkville Police Department at 630-553-8511 or Senior Services at 630-553-5777 with any questions or for more information.

An Update from our Parks Department...

RIEMENSCHNEIDER PARK OPENS WITH FANFARE

Riemenschneider Park, located in the Prairie Meadows development honors all volunteer firemen and women who have served on the Bristol-Kendall Fire Protection District (BKFPD). The firefighter theme park is named after the Riemenschneider family who has served on the department over the past 60 years. The park includes a fire truck playground for ages 2-5, a playground tower for ages 5-12, swings, a large shelter, and Yorkville's first water spray elements. A looped walking trail and baseball field complete the park. A special thank you to all who attended the October Playful City event. Come join us in spring 2009 for a special dedication ceremony of the firefighter memorial and to honor the Riemenschneider family. We'll see you there!

KIDS CAN ESCAPE TO ANOTHER WORLD AT NEW ROCKET SHIP THEME PARK

The Junior Women's Club Park at Heartland Circle is out of this world! The large rocket ship, a focal point of the park, allows this 'space theme' park to be Yorkville's tallest play structure. This park also features a skate park element equipped with a concrete bowl and grind rail built with a monetary donation from the Yorkville Junior Women's Club. A three-hoop basketball court located at the site completes this park!

PLAYFUL CITY USA

Have you heard? Yorkville is a 2008 Playful City USA! Don't forget to check out all of the city's 2009 Playful City events on our Web site at www.yorkville.il.us.

PLANS FOR NEW CASTLE THEME PARK IN THE WORKS FOR 2009

The Parks Department is currently planning and designing a new 'castle' theme park located next to the Yorkville Middle School on Prairie Crossing Dr. in the Raintree Village subdivision. The conceptual design includes a shelter, sitting area, tennis court, looped shared-use trail, and a sledding hill. Check out the design on the City's Web site at www.yorkville.il.us.

FROM ALDERMAN WALLY WERDERICH, WARD ONE

With the holidays having passed, I hope this newsletter finds you and your family doing well. Every year, when the holidays are through, one of my biggest personal concerns is my family's finances. Similarly, over the last year and a half, Yorkville's finances have also been on my mind. Just like the personal finances of many, when the economy slowed down, a greater strain was put on Yorkville's finances. Over the last year, building has dramatically slowed thus halting a stream of money that was traditionally obtained and used in the City's budget. With that in mind, the City Council and the staff of the City of Yorkville has been hard at work restructuring departmental budgets and identifying alternative sources of funding for City projects. I can assure you that there is not a person who represents Yorkville or works for Yorkville who is not mindful of the City's economic situation.

Amidst this difficult economic time in Yorkville, I believe that there are two nuggets of good news that have come about regarding the City's finances. I wanted to share those with you.

First, Yorkville has had several major retailers and shopping destinations open in the past year. These new businesses will provide Yorkville with a new stream of sales tax which was not previously available to the City. Additionally, assuming these new locations stay open, this new stream of sales tax is one that will continue into the future. More money being spent in Yorkville equals a continued flow of sales tax to help the City.

Concerning this last year, it has been indicated to me by the Mayor and the City staff that the sales tax numbers seem to be coming in better than expected. Using my best attempts not to sound biased to our neighboring communities, how can I say this—shop Yorkville. Ultimately, it helps everyone out.

The second nugget is that in my opinion, the slowing of building in Yorkville has forced the City to wean itself away from budgeting expected funds from builders. There has been common sentiment among the City Council that funds paid to Yorkville by builders should not be counted on and budgeted for the City's daily operational expenses. The sentiment is that the City's belt needs to be tightened so that those particular funds are not counted on. Using an analogy, the funds should be considered as gravy, not the main meal. In the long run, I think that this philosophical reasoning in terms of budgeting will be beneficial for Yorkville. When these funds ultimately come back, if this philosophy is maintained, the "gravy" funds can be spent in a more digressional manner on projects where the funds are most needed.

Well, that is my two cents (please excuse the pun and bad joke). As always, if you have any questions or concerns, on anything, please do not hesitate to contact me by calling City Hall at 630.553.4350.

Marion Hamilton's efforts have paid off. Her "knuckle garden" (shown) has helped make the City a great place to both live and work. Thank you Marion!

FROM ALDERMAN ROBYN SUTCLIFF, WARD THREE

It is the middle of winter. Now is the time to start thinking SPRING! Last year Yorkville had some dedicated gardeners who spruced up corners in the City. Thank you to Marion Hamilton (shown above), Michael Schroeder, Cheryl Hayward, Amy List and their Girl Scout troop for planting and maintaining the beautiful corners around town.

The program, implemented in 2008 had a great start and now it is time to think how we can keep this pretty program going.

It is my hope that we have flowers sprouting up on all the corners around Yorkville. I am currently looking for families or organizations that want to help maintain a corner of Yorkville. Information is available by calling Alderman Robyn Sutcliff at 630.553.1724 or by e-mail at, robyn3rdward@sbcglobal.net. And don't forget to THINK SPRING!
