DETECTIVE SQUAD

On October 24th, 2022, the Detective Squad experienced a change of leadership after Commander P. McMahon was promoted. On that date, Detective Sergeant Nelson began his new position. For the past three weeks, Detective Sergeant Nelson has been learning the complexities of his new position, which includes evidence custodian duties, supervising the Detective Squad, and background investigation.

In October, detectives received a tip from another agency regarding a retail theft that occurred in September at Menards. Based on that tip, detectives traveled to a long-term motel complex in an attempt to locate the suspect vehicle. Not only was the suspect vehicle located, but the suspect was actively moving items into and out of the vehicle. That suspect was later identified and confirmed to be the suspect of the retail theft. Based on that information, an arrest warrant was issued for William Meyers, age 44 of Aurora, Illinois, and he is currently wanted for retail theft.

During October, Detective Ketchmark, Detective Sergeant Nelson, and Commander McMahon attended the Illinois Homicide Investigators Association Conference in Itasca, Illinois. That conference focuses on improving detective's abilities to investigate violent crimes and homicides. The Homicide conference provides career development and also assists officers with receiving required training hours to remain certified as a Lead Homicide Investigator, which Detective Ketchmark, Detective Sergeant Nelson, and Commander McMahon are.

Detectives met with each of the registered sex offenders on Halloween, and passed out hanging placards, that reminded them that they are not allowed to participate in Trick-or-treating events. No issues were reported with any of the registered sex offenders living in the City of Yorkville during Trick-or-treating.
