PRESENTATIONS

Distinguished Service Award – Officer Kevin Warren & Officer Alex Wrobel

Sergeant Stroup mentioned that back in September, they received a burglar alarm call around 12:30 a.m., where Officer Warren and Officer Wrobel responded at the vet clinic in Yorkville. Immediately after arrival, they noticed there was forced entry as the AC unit had been removed from the window, and a door was opened. Officers immediately entered the building, searched and found the person trespassing, and got him into custody without incident. Sergeant Stroup said he would like to commend Officer Warren and Officer Wrobel for doing an excellent job that evening.

Employee Recognition – Sergeant Sam Stroup

Chief Jensen shared with the Council that they would like to recognize Sergeant Sam Stroup for his ongoing leadership and because he recently completed his master's degree in Masters of Public Administration at Aurora University. Chief Jensen said he would like to congratulate Sergeant Stroup on a job well done.

CITIZEN COMMENTS

Dave Hubert, a Yorkville resident of Ward 1, shared that he had read the last few meeting minutes and noted a lot of new construction going on within the city. He mentioned that he thought the water loans were supposed to be at 0%. Mayor Purcell shared that there will be a few loans for the water project, but none will be at 0%. Mr. Hubert asked if there were any implications on the population for any of these loans. He asked if we did a special census and became home rule, would the City lose its chances on any of the loans? Mayor Purcell shared that it would not be possible as the city would close on the loan prior to any census. Mr. Hubert also asked if remediation efforts for water loss would be discussed at this meeting, but Mayor Purcell said they would not be at tonight's meeting.

step forward, state your name and speak.

JERRY GAWLIK,

testified from the podium as follows:

MR. GAWLIK: My name is Jerry Gawlik. Ι live at 2793 Gains Court here in Yorkville.

I am currently the president of The Colonies HOA, which is a 50-plus community, of which the majority are seniors and the rest probably are pretty close to it. I am also on the Senior Services Advisory Committee here in Yorkville.

My understanding, you are looking to decide an increase in levy for inflationary costs versus levy only to cover the interest in EAV from new construction.

The library completed paying off its bond. As a result we want to increase the citizen's levy and still lower our taxes due to the bond completion thinking we still save money.

Well, one thing that needs to be considered is the homeowner's increase in EAV which happened this year. There are many with double digit increases in EAV, including myself, at 12 percent.

The 300,000 home mentioned against the calculation was more like 270,000 last year. It appears that homeowners now are forced to pay more taxes on higher EAV, possibly without any savings projected.

You might say homeowners take advantage of the higher EAV increasing the worth of their home, but many working families see their homes as a retirement factor in which they may retire with peace of mind.

If forced to sell because they no longer can afford real estate taxes, this negates any of their advantage to combat inflation at retirement.

As for seniors already retired living in their homes, many will use the increase in home worth to help them in their next phase of life, which possibly is their last phase.

This is using net worth of home to help them find good assisted living, nursing care centers, or even having to reverse mortgage to pay for home health care.

Increase in home net worth combats an ongoing rapid rise in all of these costs, and I can tell you the costs of some of these centers are really getting astronomical.

In Kendall County only a total income of I believe 60,000 or less qualifies for a tax freeze. Many seniors make more, but as this time goes on, the 60,000 does not change.

Senior Social Security only rises at approximately about two and a half to three percent each year, once again eroding their ability for good living and peace of mind. These same seniors may have to rely on federal and state government to help them.

My last point, I am not an auditor or financial expert, just a citizen looking at the April 30th, 2024 year-end audit review. As a whole on a glance -- as a whole at a glance, it is a glowing report with positives throughout for both the present and future of Yorkville.

I sincerely applaud the entire City staff and City Council for their diligence in maintaining the very solid status with the City of Yorkville.

As stated in the 4-30-24 annual financial report, total revenue was up 17.4 percent to approximately 52.1 million, although expenses were up 23.9 percent to a total approximate expense of 37.6 million. The net gain is approximately 14.5 million to the village -- to the City.

The City's total government funds combined is a positive of approximately 2.7 million, of which the General Fund gained approximately 320,000, ending in a balance of this fund of 11.3 million dollars.

The future is bright with positive growth and number of homes started, retail and consider, it kind of goes along with that, but I guess what are some of the long-term plans for manufacturing development in this particular area and, you know, if this rezoning happens, is it likely to be followed by similar changes nearby, and just are there any -- if, you know, this data center comes into play, are there any plans to just include some kind of a buffer zone or natural barrier between the manufacturing district, the data center, and the residential areas, the neighbors of Fox Hill.

-City Council - Public Hearings - November 12, 2024-

So that's -- that concludes my questions for that, but just mainly interested in knowing like what barriers, buffer zones, there might be put in place between the neighbors and the data center.

MAYOR PURCELL: Okay. Yeah. Bart will get you information, and if you have other questions, you can email him back. Those are good questions.

MR. BENNETT: Appreciate it. Thank you.

MAYOR PURCELL: Thank you.

Is there anyone else out in Zoomland? I see there is a lot of people, maybe
